Landslide Vote Assures Young Control of NYC

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—Texas financier Robert R. Young has won control of the New York Central Railroad in his proxy fight with the railroad's management, authoritative sources told the United Press today.

Associated Press Wirephoto
NYC PRESIDENT?
Alfred E. Perlman

Young won control of the nation's second largest railroad by 1,070,000 votes, these sources said. He thus won control without needing the 800,000 disputed shares which Central's management had threatened to challenge in the courts.

FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT

The formal announcement of the vote counting, which had been underway since May 26, will be made at Albany at 10 a.m. Monday. The stockholders' meeting, adjourned for the vote counting, will be reconvened at that time.

The disputed 800,000 shares, owned by Texas tycoons Clint W. Murchison and Sid W. Richardson, were voted for their friend, Young. The Central management had threatened to challenge the legality of voting those shares if a victory hinged on them, but the size of the vote indicated Young's victory was clear cut.

Young immediately called a meeting of his new board of directors, comprised of 14 men and one woman.

ELECTION

The board was to meet in New York for an organizational session to elect officers in the railroad.

Authoritative sources said there will be only two changes in the administrative set-up. Young will be made chairman of the board, a post now vacant, and Alfred E. Perlman, 51, executive vice president of the Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad, will be elected president. Other central officers will be reelected these sources said.

White, who has said he will not serve with Young, is expected to resign and give up his $120,000-a-year contract.

Young's control of the $2,650,000 railroad puts him at the head of the nation's second largest railroad, connecting New York with the Midwest rail centers of Chicago and St. Louis.

COAST-TO-COAST

Young, who has criticized the Central's management for allegedly failing to modernize the 10,700-mile railroad long has advocated a coast-to-coast railroad.

The proxy fight climaxed a feud which was similar to a hot political campaign. Both sides engaged in newspaper advertisements and letters to stockholders setting forth their campaign "platform."

Experts in public relations were engaged by both camps. Postage for campaign literature cost some $56,000 for stamps alone.

White, a railroad man since his youth, pictured Young as a promoter who would run the railroad from a sunny Florida beach. Young retorted that the Central was being run by bankers and "the Morgan crowd" instead of railroad men.

Flynt To Head State Bar Assn.

SAVANNAH, June 11 (AP)—John J. Flynt Jr. of Griffin was elected president of the Georgia Bar Association at the closing session of the 71st annual meeting of the bar here Friday night.

Howell Hollis, Columbus, was elected vice president. Other officers elected were Maurice C. Thomas, Macon, secretary, and Judge J. Wilson Parker, Atlanta, treasurer.

Announcement of the new officers was made at the annual banquet of the association.

2 Georgia Firms Share 'Windfall' Loan Profits, Housing Chief Says

Two Georgia firms were among 200 corporations named by Federal Housing Administrator Albert W. Cole Friday as having reaped nearly $40,000,000 in "windfall" profits from government-insured loans on 70 apartment projects.

The concerns were listed as Darlington Apartments of Atlanta and Nelson Apartments, Inc. of Savannah.

Total "windfall" profits of the Atlanta concern were listed by Cole as $39,122 and the Savannah firm's at $225,000.

Cole announced that the list is being sent to the Justice Department.

According to the Cole report made public in Washington, the developers of the huge Darlington

Veterans Post Given To Wheeler

SAVANNAH, June 11—The Veterans Service Board meeting here today, named Peter Wheeler to succeed William K. (Billy) Barrett as state veterans service director.

Barrett has resigned to enter the race for lieutenant governor. Wheeler, who has been Barrett's assistant for the past four years, will fill Barrett's unexpired term, which runs to March 31, 1957.

A native of Dougherty County and former resident of Oglethorpe County, Wheeler, is a veteran of World War II, in which he served as infantry sergeant. He now holds a commission as captain in the reserve. He is a graduate of the University of Georgia. He now resides at 2274 Westminster Way in DeKalb County.

Members of the Veterans Service Board are Judge A. L. Henson of Atlanta, chairman; Carlton Mobley of Macon, vice chairman; the Rev. Blake Craft of Clayton, secretary; Morris Perlman of Savannah; Cheney Griffin of Bainbridge; Harrison Bray of Manchester, and J. R. Wynn of Carrollton.

Ike Doubtful In '56 If GOP Loses Control

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams said today President Eisenhower may not run for another term if the Republicans lose control of Congress in this fall's elections.

"The loss of Congress might make a certain farm in Pennsylvania an attractive place to retire," Adams told the National Citizens for Eisenhower Congressional Committee.

Adams prefaced his remark by saying three things would influence Mr. Eisenhower's decision to retire. He would not name the other two.

Adams, the source closest to Mr. Eisenhower at the White House, presumably is privy to the President's thinking about his political future. Mr. Eisenhower himself has refused to indicate whether he will seek another term.

Adams and House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. made speeches today following up Mr. Eisenhower's address to the committee last night, in which he urged public support for his legislative program.

House Votes Trade Act Extension

Doubt Senate To Move Quickly

By JOHN D. MORRIS
New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, June 11—A one-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, which expires tomorrow, was approved by the House of Representatives today, 281 to 53.

Doubt arose, however, over the prospect of early Senate action. Sen. William F. Knowland of California, the majority leader, said the administration's omnibus tax reform bill would be taken up there first. This would mean a delay of at least two or three weeks.

FACT WITH JAPAN

While existing trade agreements will remain in effect, the President will have no authority after midnight tomorrow to negotiate new ones during the prospective hiatus. Plans for working out a pact with Japan, which is badly in need of export markets for her goods, may consequently be thrown weeks behind schedule.

The Trade Agreements Act, statutory basis for the worldwide tariff reduction program instituted in 1935 by Cordell Hull as secretary of state, gives the President authority to lower tariffs in exchange for trade concessions by other countries. He may also raise them to prevent serious injury to domestic industries. The existing law limits him to a 50 per cent range of rates in effect on Jan. 1, 1945.

ASKED 3 YEARS

Eisenhower, in a special message last March, had asked Congress for a three-year extension, with authority to lower rates selectively by an additional 5 per cent each year.

Later, however, he agreed to accept a straight one-year extension of his present powers so Congress would have time for an adequate study of his broader program, which also includes other measures aimed at encouraging world trade.

He thus avoided an immediate split with powerful Republican protectionists that might have damaged the party's chances of retaining control of Congress in the elections next November.

IKE VICTORY

The House ignored strong pressures for immediate restrictions on current imports in voting to continue the President's powers without change.

In that sense, it was a victory for Eisenhower. Moreover, the President had voiced his support of the bill at his news conference only yesterday. At the same time he emphatically reaffirmed his determination to work for approval next year of his more liberal program.

In an apparent spirit of compromise, the chief House spokesman of the party's protectionist bloc, Rep. Daniel A. Reed of New York, and Richard M. Simpson of Pennsylvania, took the lead in maneuvering the one year extension to passage.

Agitation for new curbs was largely confined to representatives from coal mining areas fighting imports of fuel oil.

Flood Bill Voted By House Panel

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The House Public Works Committee today approved 76 rivers and harbors projects estimated to cost $109,431,200.

The projects are carried in an omnibus bill which also will include new flood control projects.

Worrell, all of Savannah. The report said the capital stock of this concern was only $7,500.

The list of projects was developed by Cole's deputy, William F. McKenna, who has been investigating alleged abuses of FHA loan procedures. It contained projects in 18 states and the District of Columbia.

Cole said it was the result of a preliminary study and will be followed by another list later.

Leonard Long, one of the developers of the Darlington Apartments, said in Atlanta that "We positively have not made any windfall profits and I challenge anyone to prove that we did."

Harvard Did Job On Schine, Joe?

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy caused a ripple of laughter today when he listed G. David Schine's Harvard education as one of his qualifications for employment by the Senate Permanent Investigating Subcommittee.

McCarthy frequently has criticized the university for what he calls a soft attitude toward communism.

Woman $75,000 Freed Points Out Kidnaper

PHOENIX, Ariz., June 11 (AP)—Mrs. Evelyn Ann Smith tonight "positively identified" a suspect from a police lineup as the man who abducted her from a busy downtown street and held her 24 hours until $75,000 ransom was paid.

The man had staggered into a farmhouse near the place Mrs. Smith was released. Officers identified him as Daniel Marsin, 41, an unemployed welder.

Police Chief Charles Thomas said the 23-year-old mother identified Marsin as the man who kidnapped her Tuesday afternoon, drove her into the Superstition Mountains and held her at gunpoint.

The ransom was paid the next day by her husband, Herbert Smith, a wealthy Phoenix pipe and steel company executive.

Marsin was naked to the waist when sheriff's deputies arrested him at the farm house for investigation. He had but a few pennies in his pockets. He pleaded for water, saying he had become lost while hunting for the fabled Lost Dutchman gold mine.

Marsin refused to deny or confirm that he was the kidnaper.

He was quoted by a police officer as having said that he once was convicted of a car theft in Brooklyn but "got free by paying a little money."

Mrs. Smith told officers after her release that the abductor was 35 to 45 years old, about five feet four inches tall, with dark brown hair.

Her husband told officers after he found his wife in the Superstition Mountains late Wednesday afternoon that he saw her abductor at a distance of 200 feet.

That morning, Smith said, he had received a mysterious telephone call from a man with "a New York or Brooklyn accent."

The caller advised Smith, he said, that his golf clubs could be picked up at a service station at Apache Junction. Smith said he hadn't used the clubs recently but remembered they had been in his wife's car. He called the police.

In the bag Deputy Sheriff Paul E. Mullenix found a sealed ransom note to "Mr. Smith" demanding the $75,000 in cash.

The young mother is the daughter of Carl Weissman, millionaire structural steel dealer of Great Falls, Mont.

Mrs. Smith was held 29 hours after being seized in front of a Phoenix beauty parlor Wednesday afternoon.

Atlantan's 'Opprobrious Words' Halt Party-Line 'Gabbing'—at Cost of $200

William F. Holland got peevish with his party-line neighbor and it cost him $200 in court Friday.

Holland, who lives at 1316 Westmont Dr., SW, told Fulton Criminal Court Judge Charles G. Bruce that he had been trying to put in a phone call for more than an hour—but that his party line was tied up by a "long-winded" conversation between two women.

Holland admitted he broke in on the women and demanded they stop "all this gabbing." When they refused, he became angry and used "a little rough language," he said.

Judge Bruce instructed Holland to keep his temper in better check, fined him $200 and gave him a suspended 12-month jail sentence on the charge of using "opprobrious words."

Cohn Explodes, Vows To 'Get' Jackson for 'Favor to Communist'

Offers Fight Challenge To Kennedy

By W. H. LAWRENCE
New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON, June 11—Roy M. Cohn angrily threatened tonight to "get" a Democratic senator because of his sharp cross-examination of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy in the Army-McCarthy hearings.

Cohn, the volatile chief counsel for the Senate permanent subcommittee on investigations, made his threat against Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) in a bitter post-journeymen exchange with Robert F. Kennedy, counsel for the Democrats on the subcommittee.

Kennedy told reporters that Cohn had threatened to bring out evidence that Jackson had "written something favorably inclined toward Communists."

Jackson served formal public notice that he will not be intimidated by any threats of "retaliatory action" but will "continue to do everything in my power to get all the facts in order to reach a fair and honest decision as to the merits in this controversy."

Jackson said this is not the first threat Cohn has made against senators since these hearings began on charges that Cohn and McCarthy used improper means to seek preferential treatment from the Army for Pvt. G. David Schine, who, until he was drafted, was an unpaid subcommittee consultant.

Earlier McCarthy said he is investigating the Foreign Operations Administration, headed by his old political foe, Harold E. Stassen. McCarthy made the disclosure in denouncing what he called "a dangerous trend toward secrecy" throughout the Eisenhower administration.

He appealed to both Democrats

Baseball Gaming Raid Seizes 20 in Bleachers

A raid in the left-field bleachers at Ponce de Leon Park Friday night broke up the ball game for 20 Atlantans who were arrested on gambling charges.

Atlanta vice squad detectives and officers from the office of Sol. John I. Kelley made the raid at the end of the fourth inning of the Atlanta-Little Rock game, which the Crackers won 6-4.

Pat Morgan, 34, of 419 Tifton St., NW, was charged with disorderly conduct-gaming and disorderly conduct-resisting arrest. As he was placed, handcuffed, into a patrol wagon, a fly ball from the playing field landed with a thud on the roof of the vehicle.

Morgan's bond on the two charges was set at $1,500.

Both the raiders and those arrested were attired in colorful sports wear.

Except Morgan, those arrested were charged with disorderly conduct-gaming. Bond was set at $1,000 each. A hearing will be held at 3:30 p.m. Monday in Municipal Court.

Dulles Warns Reds Against Asia Grab

Says U.S. To Meet Issue Without Help If Necessary

LOS ANGELES, June 11 (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today the United States would "meet the issue squarely" without Allied help if necessary, in case of open Red Chinese aggression in Southeast Asia.

Warning the Peiping regime that overt military moves would be "a deliberate threat to the United States itself," he said this country would "of course" invoke United Nations procedures and consult its Allies.

"But we could not escape ultimate responsibility for decisions closely touching our own security and self-defense," he declared.

As of now, however, the secretary said the United States would not be justified in considering intervention in Indochina without the aid and support of other free nations. Dulles also said France must promise not to pull out of the fight, and certain other conditions must be met.

Dulles' remarks, in a nationally-broadcast speech before the Los Angeles World Affairs Council, was the first public U.S. statement that France would have to stay in the Indochina battle if it wants American help.

Bus Strikers Near Accord In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, June 11 (AP)—A proposed agreement to end the 34-day trolley and bus strike in Pittsburgh was reached tonight. Mayor David L. Lawrence said union leaders told him they would recommend that 2,700 strikers approve the agreement.

Lawrence said the union, Division 85, Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees, would hold a membership meeting at 3 p.m. EDT tomorrow.

Details of the proposal to end the strike which has tied up most trolley and bus lines here, since 5 a.m. May 9 were not revealed. C. D. Palmer, president of Pittsburgh Railways Co., said if the proposal is accepted some service will be resumed Sunday.

Psychology Lecture

"Overcoming Hereditary and Environment Influence" will be the subject of the lecture in psychology to be given by Mrs. Rose Mae Ashby at 3:30 p.m. Sunday in the Mirror Room of the Dinkler Plaza Hotel. The public is invited.

Eden Ready To Throw Up Hands On Korea, Indochina Talk Delay

GENEVA, June 11 (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the Communist members of the Far Eastern conference today that if no way can be found to resolve differences on two basic Korean issues, "then we shall have to admit that this conference has not been able to complete its task."

Eden declared that in the event the conference fails to reach agreement on the unification of Korea, it should report "the position we have reached" to the United Nations.

He added that "this would ensure that, while the existing military armistice in any event remained in force, the search for a political settlement in Korea could be resumed whenever the right moment came."

A similar warning to the Communists about the imminence of a breakdown of the Indochina phase of the conference, unless they make possible an agreement "without further delay," on the three basic issues, was given by Eden yesterday.

He said today that the two basic Korean issues were "the authority of the United Nations and the principle of the free elections."

Eden's statement on the issues was supported by representatives of France, Belgium, Canada, New Zealand and Thailand. It is on these issues, and not on South Korea's proposal for the unification of Korea, that the 15 United Nations representatives intend to break off the Korean negotiations next week, unless the Communists make some last-minute compromise.

Both Chou En-Lai, Prime Minister and Foreign Minister of Communist China, and Nam Il, Foreign Minister of North Korea, insisted today that some progress had been made and that the negotiations should continue. However, both remained adamant in rejecting supervision of Korean elections by the United Nations and in demanding that this be done by an "all-Korean commission" composed of representatives of the North and South Korean parliaments, each side having a veto.

Senators Order Military To Speed Security Checks

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee ordered the armed forces today to "speed up" their security checks to avoid any repetition of the Peress case and the withholding of commissions from three Annapolis graduates.

The committee acted in approving a $28,861,584,486 military spending bill to finance President Eisenhower's "new look" defense program in the new fiscal year starting July 1.

The total was $177,334,000 more than that voted by the House. But it was $1,025,470,514 less than Eisenhower requested and $5,541,736,514 less than Congress voted for the current 12 months.

The Air Force would get the lion's share of $10,982,960,000, or $163,550,000 more than voted by the House. The Navy would get $9,719,122,500, or $13,284,000 more than the House provided. The Army would get $7,619,066,986, just what the House voted.

Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) told reporters the speed-up order stemmed from incidents like the Peress case and the Annapolis episode.

MIDDIES DENIED
The three midshipmen were denied commissions at Naval Academy graduation exercises last week pending completion of security investigations. Maj. Irving Peress, a New York dentist, was granted an honorable discharge after refusing to sign a non-Communist affidavit.

Shortly after the committee's action, the Navy announced that the three midshipmen had been cleared and their commissioning now is "clearly consistent with national security." The three were commissioned tonight in a special ceremony at the Naval Academy.

The three are Harold Pollack of Hartford, Conn.; Paul Shimek of Hazen, Ark., and Peter Yadyowsky of Jersey City, N.J. Pollack and Shimek became Navy ensigns. Yadyowsky was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Marines.

WASHINGTON, June 11 (AP)—The Air Force has agreed to set up a "mercy" airlift to ferry 1,000 wounded French troops home from Indochina by way of the United States. Air Force Secretary Talbott announced today.

Talbott said the airlift was arranged at the request of the French government and will start "late next week."

He made no direct mention of India's refusal to let a previous airlift across its territory, but said the air evacuation will be routed across the Pacific to the United States and then on to France.

India blocked Air Force planes from crossing its territory with French paratroopers for the relief of Dien Bien Phu just before the French fortress fell to the Communists.

Talbott emphasized that the French wounded will be flown from "non-combat areas in Indochina."

Colorful Lawyer McDuff, Poor Man's Defender, Dies

John A. McDuff, 79, a colorful Georgia lawyer and friend of the political great, died unexpectedly in a private hospital Thursday night.

John A. McDuff, 79, a colorful political great, died unexpectedly in a private hospital Thursday night.

Born in Franklin County near Royston, Mr. McDuff was graduated from the University of Georgia Law School in 1900.

According to his son, Harold McDuff of Atlanta, he always felt he should take the part of the poor man. He particularly liked to defend them in mortgage foreclosure cases.

He opened his law practice in Lavonia, moved to Hartwell and subsequently to Atlanta in 1926. He had been in retirement in Athens since 1948. He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Atlanta.

Mr. McDuff was active in political campaigning and particularly admired the late Tom Watson. He often called himself the "original Roosevelt man" and visited the late president both before his election and later at the White House.

Besides Harold, he is survived by three other sons, Paul of Augusta; Warrell of Austell, and Lawrence of Douglasville; two daughters, Miss Margaret McDuff of Atlanta and Miss Charlotte McDuff of Hollywood, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. C. C. Starr of Commerce and Mrs. Joel Seymore of Anderson, S.C.; eight grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held in Royston. Burial will be in Royston Cemetery.

Cohn Threatens To 'Get' Jackson, Offers To Fight Democrats' Counsel

and Republicans to help him fight it, aiming his plea particularly to the Democrats.

"FALSE"
The Cohn-Kennedy row did not occur until today's hearings had adjourned for the weekend, but it overshadowed in importance the day-long cross-examination of McCarthy, who branded as "false" testimony by Army witnesses that he repeatedly had sought a New York assignment for Schine.

While it was understood no final decision had been reached, it was said that the McCarthy camp was considering the introduction in evidence Monday of a letter allegedly linking Jackson to the federal job application in 1945 of a person who later figured in a Communist investigation conducted by the Senate internal security subcommittee.

The letter, purportedly by Jackson, recommended the unidentified individual for employment.

BASIS FOR THREAT

This letter quite obviously was the basis for Cohn's threat to Kennedy as the young Boston lawyer repeated it to newsmen.

Cohn would not concede to newsmen that he had directly linked his threat to "get" Jackson to anything dealing with communism.

There was no denial, however, by Cohn that he had quarreled violently with Kennedy, as some of the angry words were overheard by reporters behind the big committee table at the close of the day's session.

"Don't you make any warnings to us about Democratic senators," said Kennedy.

"I'll make any warnings to you that I want to—any time, anywhere," replied Cohn. "Do you want to fight right here?"

The public display of Cohn's now-famous temper, which has figured in his alleged threats to "wreck the Army," came after Jackson, in cross-examining McCarthy, had ridiculed and poked fun at a Schine plan to sell democracy on a global basis by formation of a "Deminform."

Schine's plan for psychological warfare had been turned down by the State department before he joined the McCarthy subcommittee to direct a major investigation of the "Voice of America" and other governmental information programs.

Kennedy is a brother of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and a son of Joseph P. Kennedy, former ambassador to Britain.

The feud between Cohn and Kennedy is of long standing, but the young Democratic counsel has remained on very friendly terms with McCarthy. It is Kennedy's job in this inquiry to type out pertinent questions for the Democratic senators, and it was his role in this connection that served to spark the explosion today.

"HATRED"

Cohn agreed that he had protested to Kennedy that it was unfair for him to serve in this inquiry because of his "hatred for one of the principals," an obvious reference to himself.

Kennedy said that he replied that if he had "a dislike" for anyone in the case, "I was certain that it was justified."

Kennedy said he told Cohn to carry his own threats to Jackson in person, and added that it was "a great state of affairs when a Senate committee employee could start threatening the senators."

The Cohn-Kennedy explosion, while not directly related to the issues now before the subcommittee, may have a bearing on the subcommittee's eventual decision as to whether Cohn should be retained as its chief counsel. There reportedly already are enough votes to bring about his dismissal at the end of these hearings.

DEFENDS SCHINE

In the formal televised hearings before the near fist fight, McCarthy repeatedly contradicted the testimony given by Army Secretary Stevens and John G. Adams, his chief counsel. He repeatedly defended Schine and said the subcommittee's need for his information still has not ended.

He flatly challenged the testimony of Stevens by saying that it was Stevens who brought up the issue of a commission for Schine at a breakfast at the New York apartment of Schine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Meyer Schine, last Sept. 16.

Stevens had said that McCarthy brought up the subject of a commission, but conceded later that his memory was "hazy" on the subject.

Ray H. Jenkins, subcommittee counsel, challenged some of McCarthy's testimony as "contradictory," and asked for an explanation. He recalled that McCarthy had testified yesterday that Adams had discussed with him the proposed removal of Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton as commanding general at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., last year because he had made disparaging remarks about certain large but unnamed Eastern universities.

MCCARTHY MEMO

Today, Jenkins called attention to a memorandum in evidence dictated by McCarthy in which he said that Adams offered no reason to him for the possible removal of Lawton aside from the fact that he had cooperated with the McCarthy committee.

McCarthy insisted the two statements were no contradictory, adding that he could not accept Adams' "phony" explanation. He conceded Adams never had admitted that the reason for possible removal of Lawton was his cooperation with the subcommittee.

McCarthy renewed his personal feud with Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), challenging him anew to testify under oath as to what he knew about the preparation of the Army charges against the McCarthy staff.

Symington continued to decline unless McCarthy would sign a formal commitment to appear before a select Senate committee to discuss his own questioned financial transactions.

NEW YORK, June 11—A Russian chess team arrived here today and its first move baffled newcomers.

Hotel reservations had been made in New York City for the 14 Russians as they had requested.

But, from Idlewild airport, the Russians set out instead for a Soviet estate in Glen Cove on Long Island. The estate is used by the Russian delegation to the United Nations.

The Russians are scheduled to meet an American team in a series of matches from June 16 through June 23. The visitors have some of the world's best chess players and are expected to win.

USSR, Britain Extend Fish Pact

New York Times News Service Special to The Atlanta Constitution LONDON, June 11—The foreign office announced today that Russia had agreed to extend the Anglo-Soviet Fisheries Convention of 1930 for another year. Last year the Soviet Union announced the agreement but then agreed to prolong it until this July.

Under the pact British vessels are permitted to fish within three miles of Russian coasts. Generally speaking, the vessels of other nations are not permitted to fish within a 12-mile limit.

Flanders was harking back to the work of a three-man Senate subcommittee set up in 1952 to investigate charges against McCarthy by former Sen. Benton (D-Conn) and countercharges made by the Wisconsin senator.

The "charges" against McCarthy, Flanders said, "were summed up in six questions, which the committee worded as follows:

"Whether under the circumstances it was proper for Sen. McCarthy to receive $10,000 from the Lustron Corp. (for a booklet about housing).

"Whether funds supplied to Sen. McCarthy to fight communism or for other specific purposes were diverted to his own use.

"Whether Sen. McCarthy used close associates and members of his family to secrete receipts, income, commodity and stock speculation and other financial transactions for ulterior motives.

Atlanta Must Plan Orderly Evacuation

Civil Defense Director Val Peterson brought home the facts of life to Atlantans during his visit to discuss with local leaders the atomic attack drill slated for Monday.

It seems strange that Atlanta must concern itself with the possibility of an enemy attack, but that's an unfortunate truth. From Murmansk by way of Greenland or from Siberia via Alaska the greatest distance to any point in the United States from Russia is only 4,500 miles.

The Communists could mount an attack on any city in the United States and Atlanta is considered a critical target area. The city's strategic importance as a transportation center and as the location of many other militarily important objectives makes it so.

Mr. Peterson says that the only sure way to survive an atomic attack is to be somewhere else when one occurs. He declared that "we must dig, die or get out. Evacuation is the only solution, since digging is too costly."

Cities must, therefore, plan for an orderly evacuation in case of attack. Atlanta must have and practice such a plan. It will be too late to practice after an attack comes. Without a plan and community-wide knowledge of how to behave when a warning comes could be fatal. Panic would make evacuation impossible.

Atlantans are thus warned that the drill scheduled for Monday is not mere play acting. It is in preparation for an eventuality that might occur and which we must be ready for. Community-wide cooperation is necessary if we are to learn what we must do should the dreaded warning come.

Are the Reds Winning Military Superiority?

In the debates raging in Washington as a result of the Indochina situation and the Communists' adamant stand at Geneva, the disturbing underlying fact is that the Soviet bloc is achieving military superiority, knows it and is playing its hand accordingly. Our military leaders fear, in fact, that this superiority will become so great in time as to become decisive.

The Soviet Union has proceeded methodically toward this objective since the end of World War II. It has carried out a large-scale dispersal of industries and has developed an effective air defense system.

On the other hand, the United States has shelved its plans for dispersal of industries, has developed almost no plans for air defense or evacuation of cities and lags in development of defensive air power.

The Soviet Union has developed air power, including intercontinental bomber forces, that is within striking distance of any target in the United States. These targets are easily located in a comparatively few of our large cities. Moscow is developing its own capacity for "massive retaliation" while working to reduce the effectiveness of massive attacks upon her own industries.

The Soviet Union is believed to be ahead of us in the development of rockets and guided missiles.

Meanwhile, victory in Indochina would help the Communists on the way to their objectives of winning the manpower and resources of all Asia. Their goal of world domination would be in sight.

Ike's Trade Program Is Up to Democrats

During the McCarthy-Army hearings, Sen. Stuart Symington, Missouri, has expressed his astonishment that the Democratic members of the subcommittee found themselves repeatedly defending the President of the United States while GOP members were silent.

The obvious conclusion that must be drawn is that there is still a fundamental cleavage within the GOP and the old reactionary element is still in the majority within the Congress.

The conclusion is supported by another recent happening. Democrats in the Senate have issued a virtual ultimatum to GOP leadership to back Ike's world trade proposals or risk loss of leadership on the issue. In other words, if the Republicans do not do something about the President's recommendation, then the Democrats will take the ball and do it for them.

The ultimatum, presented by the Democrats through Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee, did not spare the President, either. The Tennesseean accused the Chief Executive of giving up the fight without a struggle. There is basis for the Gore stand.

President Eisenhower on March 30 asked for a three-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act. Pressured by his own party in Congress, he later agreed to a one-year extension without the added authority he requested to negotiate trade agreements.

Senator Gore demanded that the Senate follow all the President's recommendations. Through it all not a single GOP voice was heard in support of the Eisenhower position.

The President's recommendations, as recalled by Senator Gore, contained these words: "If we fail in our trade policy we may fail in all. Our domestic employment, our standard of living, our security and solidarity of the free world—all are involved."

If it's that important, and it certainly is, then Senator Gore is justified in criticizing the President for giving up without a fight. In fact, in this and in many other instances, Eisenhower has permitted his proposals to be killed by his own party leadership.

The President now is seeking support for his program by taking it to the people. It appears now that his efforts are too little and too late.

Atlanta Retail Sales Set Pace for South

Atlanta is one of the fastest-growing cities in the nation in its volume of trade and in per capita buying power, the U.S. Department of Commerce reports, quoting a survey made by Sales Management Magazine.

Retail sales alone in the city last year totaled $732,900,000, 23rd in rank among the nation's 400 leading metropolitan areas.

Atlanta has led all Southeastern cities, including New Orleans, in volume of gain in sales during the postwar period—with an increase of $367,700,000 in 1953 over 1946.

The survey estimates per capita buying power of Atlantans at $1,658 during last year, an increase of $500 in the past eight years. The net income of all citizens rose $328,600,000 during these postwar years and its rise in per capita income outstripped all other large cities in the Southeast.

It is encouraging to have this continued evidence of Atlanta's growth. The city seems destined to become the regional capital of the Southeast in all fields, with its phenomenal growth continuing into the foreseeable future.

The growth is not without its problems, its stresses and strains. By the same token, growth will tend to be limited only by the degree of willingness and ability to meet them—in fact, to anticipate them.

New York Rabbi Gives Decalogue for Parents

In a consecration service held prior to Confirmation Day in his church, a rabbi in New York gave parents of the children in the confirmation class a list of Ten Commandments for Parents. Here they are:

1. Be loving to your children. Make them feel they are wanted.
2. Don't expect impossibilities of your children. Too many parents bring unhappiness to their children through their insistence that the youngsters make up for their parents' own failures.
3. Never deceive your children. It will only cause your children to lose respect for you.
4. Keep your promises. If it is a reward, give it. If it is punishment, inflict it.
5. Correct your children's shortcomings early.
6. Never exaggerate to them the values of material things.
7. Do nothing and say nothing that you would not want your child to do or say.
8. Show no favoritism among your children.
9. Make your house a home.
10. Tenth and finally, teach religion.

There is nothing exclusive about this code for parents.

It can be applied as well within one denomination or creed as in another. And the need for application is great in each.

Chicago Daily News Approves of Team Man

The victory of World War II hero Joe Foss in his bid for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in South Dakota brings a vigorous new political personality to the national scene.

Beset as it is by internal bickering, the Republican Party can use young men of his demonstrated ability to work harmoniously with others. As a Marine Corps air ace and as a South Dakota legislator for the last four years, Foss has proved his ability not only to supply alert and able leadership but to function as a part of a team.

In Pacific combat his motto was, "The fools who fought alone are dead. I'm going to stay alive!" He credited his victories over the enemy to the outstanding teamwork of his squadron.

His runaway triumph in the primary is expected to assure his victory in November. It indicates also that South Dakota voters want the kind of ability to lead that he appears to possess.

Grant Park Zoo Visitor Says Caged Birds Neglected and Park Needs General Cleanup

Bethlehem — Having lived near Grant Park when a child, I have always loved it and have visited there throughout the years. It is always a pleasure for me, to visit Atlanta and I take great pride in the progress of it and any improvements the city makes.

Last Sunday I visited Grant Park. The animals seemed to be in fair condition but the poor birds were in a pathetic state.

The parrots and parakeets, once proud in their beauty, were sitting listlessly on their perches with barely a movement of life. They had only a pan for their drinking water and it was full of slime and filth.

I know from watching the birds in my yard that birds will not drink dirty water. The Park needs a general cleanup. It is too nice a place to be allowed to remain in its present state.

MRS. GRACE EDWARDS.

He Charges FPC Ruling Costs Public

Atlanta—After ousting two of the older members of the Federal Power Commission and replacing them with two of their own choosing, the Republican Party obtained a recent ruling by that commission that is going to prove costly to sixty million natural gas consumers.

This manipulation in both personnel and in change in rates was sponsored by the Republican Administration, and put through Congress.

Did the voters seek this kind of a change in Washington? It is a typical G.O.P. raid on the peoples' pocketbooks.

Will our Supreme Court, or Congress allow this? If so, there is little hope for a sound national economy for the people.

Socialist, Communist Confuses Public Mind

Atlanta—There seems to be quite a bit of confusion in the public mind concerning the difference between socialism and communism. Some people think that there is no difference and other people think that there is plenty. It is very important to know, if the answer can be found, just how socialism differs from communism.

I think communism is something which ought to be outlawed in a democracy. I do not think that socialism does any harm to the prime democratic institutions. Communism makes use of dictatorship to attain a false economic purpose. Socialism does not make use of force to such a great extent and all of its objectives may not be of such quality as to pass all tests.

If we are to have a constructive foreign policy we must understand the difference between socialism and communism. It will be tragedy if we do not.

Leo Aikman Let 'Myrtle' Speak Out

Who is "Myrtle"? What is she? If the swains don't commend her, they should? The card posted marked Ringgold read: "If you move up in this section, we will give you a horse, cow, lovebirds, etc. house and barn." It was signed: "Myrtle." Will Myrtle please identify herself further? The offer has its appeal.

Speaking of offers, here's a classified advertisement: "For Sale—German shepherd, exceptionally nice, reasonable." That sounds inviting, too. Might go good with the house and barn and lovebirds. If there is anything I wouldn't want, it's a police dog that's unreasonable.

ALSO IN THE MAIL: From Gene Brannen, Milledgeville: "I got this from my brother, Hugh Brannen of the Washington Post. Knowing your affinity for the love form, I am passing it on. Please don't judge as harshly as did John Dennis (Bartlett's, 10th edition, p. 282, as if you didn't know!)"

"An African tribal chief lived in a grass hut and sat on a golden throne heard that a party of anthropologists from America was coming to visit him. Knowing the acquisitive nature of anthropologists from America, he decided to hide his golden throne, and stored it in the attic of his grass hut. After the party had left, it was too late to get the throne back down, so he went to sleep in it. Some time during the night it crashed down from the rafters and killed him. The moral is: People who live in grass houses shouldn't show thrones."

The John Dennis quote reads, "A man who could make so vile a pun would not scruple to pick a pocket." It's on page 184 in Bartlett's 12th edition, Gene.

On the other hand, James Boswell said, "I think no innocent species of wit or pleasantry should be suppressed; and that a good pun may be admitted among the smaller excellencies of lively conversation."

Some Rude Words On Father's Day

My Dear Family:

For some years now, I have thought of writing you this letter but have refrained from doing so, for you were young, and your feelings were tender, and I did not wish to wound you, nor to place myself in the position of being a gruff, irascible old man.

It is of the institution of Father's Day that I wish to speak. I do not know who first conceived the idea of Father's Day. I seriously doubt that he was a father.

I suspect that he, instead, was a canny bachelor in the mercantile business, who found himself overstocked with neckties of loud pattern, and shopworn shirts. However it began, it is with us now, deeply bedded in our customs, as strongly rooted there, I fear, as those other great commercial observances, Mother's Day, and Valentine's Day.

But I might as well get to the point. To be brusque about it, I do not want you to give me anything for Father's Day. I mean this. I do not want a pipe and a canister of tobacco. I do not want any shirts, socks, ties or suspenders. I do not want any lotions to make me smell sweet, nor any electric shaving device, nor any golf balls or fishing tackle. I do not want you squandering your allowance on any gift of any form, type or shape whatsoever. And above all I don't want you going to the store and buying something for me and charging it to me.

All I personally want from you on Father's Day is the same drowsy "Hi Yah, Pop" I get from you every morning at the breakfast table.

Love, Pop.

Why Attend Church On Sunday Night?

The Bible tells us, "It pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe." (1 Cor. 1:21). And to many people, preaching does seem foolishness. So much so that they regularly stay away from church and almost never hear a sermon.

On the other hand, I am constantly amazed at the large number of people who are interested in preaching. There was a time when people had almost no place to go but to church, but today there are many things calling for our attention.

Especially on Sunday night does the church have much competition. It is my happy privilege to be able to preach to rather large congregations on Sunday nights, but I am always surprised that so many come.

Henry Ward Beecher said that when he was a young preacher he wondered why everybody did not come to hear him. After he got older he wondered why anybody came. I am getting older, myself, and increasingly I am impressed with the fact that people do come to church.

When I look at a congregation on Sunday night, I think about what has happened. Most of the people have had a very busy week. There are so many meetings to attend and places to go that most of us appreciate the opportunity of a quiet evening at home with our families. At home, we can sit in an easy chair, turn on the television and enjoy wonderful entertainment. Or we can read, or go to bed early, or go out for a drive, or visit some friends, or do many other things.

Also, it requires some effort to get dressed, get out the car and drive through the traffic to church. Likely when we get to the church there will be difficulty in finding a parking place. Those who do not have a car may be required to walk to a bus stop and stand for some considerable time before the bus comes. At church the collection plate will be passed and that means parting with some money that most of us could use in some other way.

In most churches we are required to sit on hard, uncomfortable seats. Frequently the building is not properly heated or ventilated. Usually the music is provided by volunteer and untrained choirs. The church music is far inferior to what we could hear over our radios or television. Often, altogether too often, the sermon is not very interesting or inspiring.

I can make out a rather strong case for not going to church, especially on Sunday nights. Yet the fact remains that people do go and the number seems to be increasing. What is the answer?

As unskilled as the preacher may be and as poor as some sermons are, still in the hearing of the Gospel and in the worshiping together with other people in God's House, we get something that we can find no other place. And as long as people have souls, there will be need for the church and the preaching of the "unsearchable riches of Christ."

Yes, We Have No Penthouses Today

WASHINGTON—In the middle 1920's, which seems such a silly, simple, carefree time in backward glance, there was a crazy song, "Yes, We Have No Bananas." Mechanically it came, over and over, from the player piano in the dimly lit speakeasy, and more musically, over and over, from the country-club orchestra.

"Yes—we have no bananas, we have no bananas today."

Remember? We had tomatoes and scallions and radishes and rutabaga, and so on—but no bananas. Wacky? Yes, and it was a wacky era. Bathing gin, needed near-beer, flappers with rolled stockings, reckless speculation on the stock market. We called it the "new era," when everybody was going to get richer and richer, month-by-month and year-by-year. Some of us remember, perhaps with varying emotions, how it all ended—in the stock-market crash and depression—from which, incidentally, the Democrats still remind us that they rescued us.

Once-flamboyant financial wizards lost everything. Some jumped out of windows in high buildings. Some got down to their last Rolls-Royce and Palm Beach house. Some did not even have a penthouse to putter around in.

And, as for the plain folks, it was "no bananas" for them. So the Republicans were kicked out and the Democrats came whooping in on "happy days are here again," full of ideas and energy. After a time, cabbage soup went out and bananas came back—and finally, prosperity, helped along eventually by war.

But the party of the common man got beat two years ago. Some disillusioned Democrats, after an analysis of the downfall, came up with the theory that it was just such beneficence as has been mentioned that was responsible—moving the common man into a suburban community behind government-financed Venetian blinds and making him a middle-class master of a government-financed barbecue pit.

That makes folks Republicans. You've got to keep them a little hungry if you want to keep them Democrats.

In time this new millenium for the home owner attracted the racketeers—which is usual among us. They went about the land making the people in suburban communities penthouse, green-house, bathroom and kennel-conscious. They charged really extortionate prices for shabby stuff and made a fancy profit out of government money.

It had to come to an end—and did. How it all came out at senatorial investigations is recent history. And now, just this week, the FHA has issued its decree forbidding any more loans for those nice things that made Republicans out of Democrats.

Yes—we have no penthouses, we have no penthouses today. This FHA adversity order may be the biggest mistake the Republicans have yet made, once more transforming the middle-class family, with its government-financed burglar alarms, fire alarms and outdoor fireplaces, into a common-man family without even a penthouse to putter around in.

"No bananas" made Democrats before. "No penthouses" could make them again.

Crawford and Rich Gain State Finals

Mrs. Darby and Bebe Smith Bow Out in Semis at Griffin

By JIMMY MANN
Constitution Sports Writer

GRiffin, June 11—Americus' Mary Crawford swaps swings with Frances Rich of Bainbridge in the finals of the 1954 Georgia State Women's golf tournament here Saturday. The lineup is a repeat of the finals in this tournament last year.

Friday Crawford zoomed her way into the 36-hole play by whipping capable but handicapped Bebe Smith of Columbus, 6 and 5, with a brilliant display of work around the vastly improved but still tricky and swift Griffin Golf Club greens.

Rich was carried to the limit by veteran Mrs. Freeman Darby before eking out a 1-up triumph. Oddly enough, it was the same Rich putter that had kept the Bainbridge star on the ropes all week that halted Darby's advance. A 35-foot jab on the 16th green gave the winner a 1-up advantage and she reached the finals by halving the last two holes.

Smith, 18-year-old Columbus High School student, came into the tournament fully recovered but still weakened by a recent siege of pneumonia. Thursday's strenuous 18-hole battle with tough Tillie Mathis of Valdosta told on the long-hitting youngster and her physician sent her to bed early and Friday observed her throughout the Crawford match.

But still Crawford had her usual precisioned game in play all the way and was better than ever on the greens.

The defending queen won the first four holes, swamped five and six, lost seven and added eight and nine to her list to hold a 5-up margin at the clubhouse bend.

Smith never quit swinging, however, and sputtered briefly with a victory at 11. But Crawford turned it on again and took 12 and halved the 13th to end the squabble and move into position for her second straight title.

The semifinal situation looked dark for Rich as she started the round with a pair of sevens and losses to Darby on the first two holes. But she bounced back and squared the match at the end of four.

After taking the sixth, Rich was forced to come back and win the ninth for an even split at the turn. Darby moved in front 1-up with victories at seven and eight.

Darby won 10 and 14 on the back side but Rich stayed in the fight with wins at 11 and 15 and forged ahead for good with her long nudge on 16.

Championship consolation finals throw Atlanta's Madge McDonald against Savelly Shearouse of Columbus. McDonald stroked her best round of the tournament in triumphing Mrs. Margaret Lane of Robins Air Force Base, 6 and 5, and Shearouse outgolfed Bo Hall of Atlanta, 3 and 2.

As the tournament draws to a close, all visiting players and officials agreed that Mrs. T. A. Burdshaw, general tournament chairman; Mrs. Margaret O'Brien, tournament chairman; Mrs. Louise Hodges, special events chairman; and their fellow Griffin Women's Golf Association workers had staged the best state tourney ever.

Ned Neely Enters Finals

DAVIDSON, N.C., June 11 — Top seeded Ned Neely, of Atlanta, handily won his boys match with Bruce Brian of Baltimore, 6-2, 6-1, in the semi-finals of the Southern Junior and Boys Tennis Championships, but Crawford Henry, also playing out of Atlanta, bowed to Allan Quay, who came from behind to win, 1-6, 6-4, 6-3, in the junior division.

Donald Ralph of Bethesda, Md., who defeated Larry Caton, will meet Neely Saturday in the Boys singles final.

Junior Doubles (quarterfinals): Maxwell Brown, Louisville, and Allan Quay, St. Petersburg, defeated Crawford Henry, Atlanta, and Thomas Robinson, Baton Rouge, La., 6-4, 6-0.

Lindsey Hopkins, Atlanta, and Alfred Thompson, Atlanta, defeated Richard Caton, Atlanta, and Harry Thompson, Atlanta, 6-2, 6-4.

Junior Semifinals: Brown and Quay defeated Shakespeare and McCully, 6-2, 6-3. Field and Judkins defeated Hopkins and Thompson, 6-2, 6-3.

Boys' Doubles (semifinals): Bruce Brian, Baltimore, and Don Ralph, Bethesda, Md., defeated Larry and Caton, Pensacola, 6-1, 6-4. Ned Neely and Mike Neely, Atlanta, defeated Philip Lee, Charlotte, and David Baker, Branford, Conn., 6-0, 6-2.

Mr. Steed's Happy Lunker Legend

If It's Not Record It Was Great Fun

Catching fish is no joke—anyone who hasn't caught them and tried will tell you that. Quick. So will the fellow who has caught one so big that he doesn't have to lie about it afterwards—the answer to the celebrated angler's prayer.

Such a person is my friend A. C. Steed of Luthersville, who may have the record smallmouth bass entered in the Field and Stream contest this year.

He read the column I had about Owen Smith's lunker and dropped a photo of his fish in an envelope with a nice letter. He says that many "experts" down there and in Alabama where he caught the bass say that it is a smallmouth.

But the beautiful thing about it is that Mister Steed doesn't give a hoot in a rain hat what size-mouth bass it is. He's happy. It weighed 12 pounds, 15 ounces.

He says: "I am no judge of what it is. I am leaving it up to someone else to say what it is. If it's a smallmouth, I have it on Mr. Smith. I have entered it in the Field and Stream judging and they will decide what it is. It gave me a thrill and I am satisfied."

Lighthouse Lineups To Glitter With 6 Once-in-Decade Stars

By BILL ALLEN

It's a decade or a generation between really great home-grown athletes in most small Georgia cities, and when they show themselves the countryside resounds with praise.

Several of these one-in-a-blue-moon boys, all highly successful baseballers, will play in the North-South All-Star Lighthouse game June 17, sponsored by The Atlanta Constitution and the Lions Clubs of Georgia.

The hardy half-dozen players who are stamped with the reputation of being "the best high school baseballer from this town in its entire history" are Marvis Johnson from Glenwood, Paul Pierce of Reynolds, Dan Thompson of Lyons, Billy Hearn of Putnam County, Frankie Stewart of West Point and Donald Stichter of Bowdon.

And while each one is particularly remarkable on the diamond, most of them excel in other sports.

Hearn, for instance, all-state football quarterback and all-region basketball, is a big "un"—6 feet 3 inches, 170 pounds and son of Georgia Tech's "Tiny" Hearn, basketballer extraordinaire.

He pitches, smotherers first base and blankets the outfield. Eastman High Coach Eli Maricich.

Tickets for the Lighthouse game may be bought at the front counter in The Journal-Constitution Building or from any member of a Lions Club. Price is $1.

He has a 6-2 record on the year, hurled four consecutive one-hitters, fanned 100 batters in 49 innings, allowing 11 hits and three earned runs while hitting .333. He batted .392 while winning 10 of 11 games last year.

Then, there's Glenwood's Johnson, a solid 180-pounder, 5-9 tall. He swings and throws right. And he throws successfully, having a 29-5 mound record for four high school years.

Johnson pitched Glenwood to the Class C championship in 1953. He played center field when not torturing batsmen. This year he hit .509, including six homers, four triples, six doubles. His hurling performances include a no-hitter, three one-hitters, five two-hitters and in 1954 he has three shutouts.

Lyons' Thompson playing the hot corner and shortstop, is 5-10 and about 165 heavy. He batted at a .461 clip, rapped six triples this year and was over .400 in three of four playing years. He was a star in the Savannah River semi-pro League, and was a football and track star in high school.

Pierce will catch for pilot Johnny Rucker's South team. He's a four-year regular for Reynolds, he hit .440 and led the team to the Class C semifinals this year.

Stewart, West Point's amazing southpaw moundsman, has notched four no-hitters in two years. The 5-10, 160 pounder has a plate average of .377. He won seven and lost one while pitching 45 innings, giving up only 21 hits. Eleven earned runs trickled across the plate while he was fanning 91 batters and no team managed more than five hits off of his delivery.

Stichter, huge (6-2, 180 pounds) Bowdon outfielder, hits the long ball. And his average (.409) leads one to expect the well-placed ball, too. He has two homers, three doubles out of nine hits in 22 trips. He's careful—been walked 10 times.

1954 LIGHTHOUSE RANKS HARBOR MANY LEFTIES
West Point's Frankie Stewart Fires From Portside

The southpaw of the species, a rarity in the 1953 Lighthouse All-Star high school baseball game, will be prevalent in drives for the fifth annual classic at Ponce de Leon Park next Thursday night.

A year ago, the winning South squad, coached by Bobby Dodd, had only three left-handed hitters, no southpaw throwers. Wally Butts' North squad had just two southpaw throwers and four southpaw stick-wielders, two were pitchers.

This time the South will go with seven left-handed hitters, the North six. Three North players—two of them pitchers—throw left. Two South stars throw left-handed.

South southpaw stickers are Elmer Lott, Bobby Hallman, Jerry Clark, Preston Sizemore, Boe Altman, Bobby Floyd and Robby Godwin. North lefty stickmen are Jerry Rogers, Gilbert Adair, Larry Owens, Earle Fuller, Alex Chesnut, Doug Carter.

Adair and pitchers Carter and Frankie Stewart are North southpaw elbowers. (Stewart bats right). Sizemore and Lott are South aces who toss left.

"Powder Puff" Event Featured in Skyway Airport's First Drag Race at Fairburn

Girls Invade Racing Field

Atlanta, Ga., June 11—Auto racing, one of the last male strongholds in the field of sports, falls this Sunday to the fair sex at Skyway Airport. The Atlanta Racing Assn. today announced the invasion of the Powder Puff event for their first drag race at the new Skyway Airport drag strip at Fairburn, Ga.

With lady wrestlers, women cab drivers and policewomen, one might have guessed it would be only a matter of time before women invaded the field of racing. Perhaps wary male drivers will agree, however, that this after all is the best way to let the girls drive. Only two cars race at a time and then only for a distance of 1/4 mile on a wide safe straight-away track. No curves or turns, no signals required, no backing-up and no garages or driveways to negotiate. Under these conditions the girls are certain to give a good account of themselves and may surprise many a spectator by displaying the best in racing form. In addition to the powder puff heat, the regular fare of drag racing will continue for male drivers. Competition will be held for four separate classes of American-made stock cars, three classes of motorcycles, and separate races for foreign and American sports cars. In drag racing cars compete only with others in their same class which is in turn determined by the cubic inch displacement of their engines.

Jean Russo, of Atlanta, and Lee Smith, of Miami, all smiles now—But will race in earnest when they meet Sunday.

Rambler, Hudson Jet, Studebaker Champion, Willys and Henry J. Class A includes Ford 6 and V-8, Chevrolet, Plymouth, Dodge 6 and V-8, Kaiser, Studebaker 8 and Hudson Pacemaker.

Class B includes Pontiac 6 and 8, Oldsmobile 6, all Buicks except the Roadmaster, Hudson 8, De Soto 6 and 8, Chrysler 6 and Packard 110 and 120. Class C includes Hudson Hornet, Olds V-8, Cadillac, large Packards, Chrysler V-8, Lincoln V-8 and Buick Roadmaster.

Anyone with a driver's license may enter, but each car must first pass a rigid tire, brake, steering and other safety inspections held by the association's technical committee. Those under 21 must have a notarized statement from their parents granting permission to participate. The Atlanta Racing Association is scheduling a drag race at Skyway Airport every other week starting this Sunday. Races begin at 2:00 p. m. and will continue throughout the afternoon until winners are determined for the various classes.

Trophies will be presented to each winner. The association's low price policy continues with admission set at only $1.00. Children under 12 admitted free when accompanied by their parents. Convenient free parking space available at the Skyway Airport which is located on Route 29 at Fairburn.

Market Closes

On Strong Note

2nd Recovery Session

Puts Prices Up All Around

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—The stock market closed on a strong note today in its second straight recovery session after a two-day break.

The session started quietly with prices steady. Buying demand in the steel spread gradually to other areas of the market. Finally there was a rush ahead near the close that put prices up all around.

Gains of 1 to 2 points were frequent in the list, and some soared sharply to around 7 points. Mid-Continent Petroleum advanced 7 1/2 at 88, Texas Pacific advanced 7 1/2 at 137, Union Pacific advanced 4 1/2 at 130, and Deep Rock Oil gained 4 1/2 at 54 1/2.

New York Central jumped forward in a last minute flurry of buying and closed up a point at 23 1/2 as the day's most active issue on 321,000 shares.

The market last Tuesday broke in the sharpest reaction in four years that climaxed a substantial nine-month climb of the market and was regarded by brokers as a natural corrective development.

The fall continued in a modified form on Wednesday. Yesterday the market made a timid advance, and that continued today at the start.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $1.00 at $123.40. It gained 30 cents yesterday. In the Tuesday and Wednesday reaction the average declined $3.30.

The railroad component of the average made the strongest showing up $1.50 while the industrials were up 90 cents and the utilities up 30 cents.

Volume was quite low at 1,630,000 as it was yesterday with 1,610,000 shares traded. Nearly 5,000,000 changed hands in the two days of falling prices.

Following New York Central in the most active list was National Theatres up 1/2 at 7 1/2, Ashland Oil up 1/2 at 12 1/2, and Air Reduction up 1/2 at 26 1/2.

The American Stock Exchange was steady throughout the day and turned higher at the close. Volume amounted to 390,000 shares as compared with 350,000 shares traded yesterday.

Higher stocks included Barium Steel, Col's Mfg., Consolidated Mining, Humble Oil, Imperial Oil, Lake Shore Mines, Pacific Petroleum, and a Shattuck-Denn Mining.

Corporate bonds were higher. U.S. Government issues in the over the counter market were mixed.

IN OUR CHURCHES

Gordon Street Baptists
Schedule Choral Tour

By BILL WITHERS

The choral choir of the Gordon Street Baptist Church will begin a tour Wednesday which will take its members to key cities in Georgia and Florida.

The choir, composed of 50 voices of young men and women between the ages of 15-19, will make its first appearance in Columbus, proceeding the next day to Thomasville. From there it will go to Florida for concerts in West Palm Beach, Miami and Orlando. Returning to Georgia, the choral group will perform in Tifton, Macon and Augusta. It will end its tour in Athens on June 25.

The choir, under the direction of Louis Montgomery, minister of music at Gordon Street Baptist, made a similar tour last year, traveling over 1,500 miles. Accompanying the group on tour will be Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Clegg, chaperones, and Mrs. Jo Cushman, organist.

At 8 p.m. Sunday, the choir, founded in 1951, will present a program for the congregation of the Gordon Street Baptist Church.

Unity Conference

The Rev. Wendell H. Mixson, minister of Unity Church of Christianity, leaves Monday to attend the postgraduate school of Unity and the annual Unity Ministers' Assn. Conference in Missouri.

The theme of this year's conference is "The Miracle of Working Power of Jesus Christ." The Rev. Mr. Mixson's part in the conference will be "The Miracle of Scholarship."

Cole Ordination
Clarence G. Cole Jr. will be ordained into the ministry at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Kirkwood Baptist, his home church.

A graduate of Murphy High School and Baylor University in Waco, Texas, Cole at present is serving as pastor of Avondale Baptist Church Chapel.

His plans are to enter Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary this fall.

Friendship Meet

All single adults over 35 years of age are invited to attend a program at 6:30 p.m. Sunday at the First Methodist Church.

Salvation Army Maj. and Mrs. Frank Longino, who will appear on the program sponsored by the Co-Ed Friendship Club of the church, will speak, play and sing. Supper will be served at 6 p.m.

Bouldercrest Revival

A revival meeting will begin at the Bouldercrest Baptist Church at 8 p.m. Sunday and continue for 10 days.

The Rev. E. G. Kilpatrick will be the visiting evangelist for the meetings.

The Rev. C. J. Johnson, pastor of Bouldercrest, has extended an invitation to all persons. A nursery will be open each evening for children.

The Brotherhood from Woodland Hills Baptist Church is helping sponsor the revival.

Wesleyan Service

The Wesleyan Service Guild of Haygood Memorial Methodist Church will meet at 6:30 p.m. Monday. A color film, entitled "Prophet Jeremiah," will be shown the program. Miss Miriam Rogers will conduct the program and worship service will be led by Mrs. E. E. Barnes.

Trinity Officers

New officers of the official board of Trinity Methodist Church who were elected last week are S.

More Church
News on Page 9

Reaves Gaston, chairman of the board; J. Tome Slate, vice chairman; J. Richard Robert, secretary, and S. Arthur Fleming, treasurer.

Fifty-four new members of the official board also were elected.

Sermon of Songs

"A Sermon of Songs" will be presented at the Park Street Methodist Church by Mrs. Ruth Manning Sunday night. She will present a gospel message by using a group of hymns with the theme, "Choose You This Day Whom You Will Serve."

The Rev. Peter Manning, her husband and pastor of Park Street, will deliver short sermons between songs.

Students to Preach

Eugene Miller and Johnnie Norton, both ministerial students and members of Bethel Methodist Church, will preach at the morning and evening services of the church, which is observing Methodist Student Day.

Kribbs Installation

The Rev. Robert E. Kribbs will be formally installed at the Park Street Presbyterian Church at 8 p.m. Sunday.

Dr. J. McDowell Richards, president of Columbia Theological Seminary, will deliver the sermon.

Couples Honored

Dr. Paul S. James, pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle, will present a "Wedding Bells" service at the Tabernacle at 7:45 p.m. Sunday.

His sermon is called "For Better, Not for Worse."

All married couples will be honored, especially those who have been married during the year.

One couple, who has recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary, will give a short talk on "Fifty Happy Years."

The vesper choir of intermediates will present the music.

130th Anniversary

The members of Mt. Gilead Methodist Church will celebrate the 130th anniversary of its founding Sunday with a colorful ceremony including traditional dress and basket-lunches.

Following an 11 a.m. sermon delivered by Dr. Nat G. Long, the congregation will gather on the church grounds for an "old-time" singing, after which a basket lunch will be served. Their dress will be in the style of the early 1800s.

The Rev. John Bridges, a student at Emory University, is pastor of the church, which was built in 1824.

Here and There

The Rev. E. Carl Sandiford, assistant rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, leaves next month to be vicar of St. John's Episcopal Mission Church in Moultrie.

Lee Carter Maynard, evangelist, will guest-preach at the 8 p.m. service of East Point Christian Church.

"What Held Jesus on the Cross?" will be the title of the sermon of Dr. W. Lee Cutts at the morning service of Capitol View Baptist Church.

Holy Communion will be observed at the 11 a.m. service of St. Luke's Episcopal Church.

Dr. William C. Robinson will deliver the morning and evening sermons at Decatur Presbyterian Church in the absence of Dr. Bruce C. Boney, the regular pastor.

Scouts Hit Trail to Day Camps

By DOTTY LUNDY

Girl Scouts can take to the trail a skip from the trolley lines again this summer as day camps open over the city. Day camping is real camping, giving scouts a taste of living close to nature.

Brownies and Intermediates, ages 7 to 12, learn outdoor cooking, swimming, hiking, participate in plays and campfires. Counselors, many of whom have young scouts of their own, teach woodlore, crafts, and perhaps most important, getting along with the gang. Groups are divided into units of 20, each with a leader, an assistant and a program aide — a high school girl who has come up through the ranks. All must meet exacting Scout standards for leadership.

The three day camps are conveniently located over the city. Fernbank Forest in Druid Hills, directed by Miss Margaret Colbert, holds its first two-week session June 15-25. Second session runs June 29-July 9. Camp is held Tuesday through Friday from 9:30 to 3:30.

Memorial Forest on Gordon Road serves south Atlanta. Directed by Mrs. E. A. Liptak, first session will be held June 14-25, second session June 28-July 9. Camp is open five days a week from 9:30 to 3:30.

At North Fulton, directed by Mrs. William E. Steiner, three sessions are scheduled, beginning June 15-25. Groups will attend from June 29-July 9 and July 13-23. Hours are from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., no camp on Mondays. Usually the last night of each session the girls get the biggest thrill — an overnight. In bedrolls or sleeping bags, they cluster in units for songs and games before turning in under the stars.

Porter Ponders Pocketbook Pinch

By JEAN ROONEY

You don't have to be a Phi Beta Kappa to balance your budget.

So says one of the nation's most successful and prettiest Phi Betas, Sylvia Porter, syndicated financial columnist.

Visiting Atlanta Friday and Saturday for several speaking engagements, Miss Porter offered a few wise words on household budget balancing. "Make it a family project. Most budgets go wrong because one person does the planning and the rest of the family doesn't understand."

The curly haired, glamorous columnist whose readers number as many males as females, claims she faces all the financial problems of the average wife in her own home, only doublefold.

KEEPS TWO HOMES

She keeps two homes going for her husband, S. Sumner Collins, promotion manager of a New York newspaper; four-year-old daughter Chris and 20-year-old stepson Charles, a college senior.

One is an apartment at fashionable No. 2 Fifth Avenue. The other is a country place at Pound Ridge, N.Y., where her husband raises strawberries for a hobby.

The dark-eyed, vibrant visitor thinks she pulled the smartest budget move of her life some years ago when she left her home to be completely operated by her husband.

"Now he understands the high cost of living," she jokes.

A piece of advice outside the financial field that Miss Porter

ported that a few minutes earlier she had checked with Wall Street on "how the market was cooking."

Her career, which includes her column in "The Atlanta Journal," book writing and editing a weekly economics news letter, takes her in and out of Washington and Wall Street daily, she said.

She hasn't told how to balance the nation's budget yet, but she is in close touch with the U.S. Treasury Department and Federal Reserve Banking System.

Christening Set For Walker Son

Teen-Age Drivers Attend Safety Meet in Cordele

High school drivers from all over the state will meet at Lake Blackshear near Cordele Monday for the second annual Governor's Teen-Age Traffic Safety Conference. The meet will close Saturday.

A program featuring speakers, discussion groups, movies and recreation has been planned, with safe driving the paramount topic. Stan Benfell, president of the Western Regional Teen-Age Traffic Safety Assn. of Denver, Colo., will be principal speaker at the opening session. Tommy King of Tampa, Fla., president of the Youth Safety Council of Florida, will address the conference.

Panel discussions scheduled are: Traffic Safety Education in the Schools, Teen-Age Traffic Safety Program, Traffic Violations by Youthful Drivers, the Driver License Law. Adult consultants serving in an advisory capacity on panels are: T. A. Carmichael, state coordinator of driver training; Lt. R. V. Richards, director accident reporting division, State Patrol; Sgt. J. O. Goodwin, and Cpl. Lamar Polk of the State Patrol Safety Education Division.

The conference is sponsored by the Georgia Citizens Council and the Georgia Teen-Age Traffic Safety Assn.

Mrs. Doughtie Heads New Garden Club

Mrs. George R. Doughtie has been named president of the newly formed Thornycroft Garden Club and will be installed at the next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Joseph Kling on Riverview road.

In addition to Mrs. Doughtie, the other officers include Mrs. John R. Walker and Mrs. John W. Strickland, vice presidents; Mrs. Maurice M. Egan, recording secretary; Mrs. Joseph F. Shafer, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Anthony A. Alaimo, treasurer.

Miss Cranor Is Married At Church

Wearing the satin and Alencon lace wedding gown of her bridesmaid, Mrs. Bayne Culley Jr., Miss Sally Ann Cranor ascended the aisle of the Second-Pence de Leon Baptist Church Friday evening to become the bride of Robert W. Carmichael Jr. Dr. Monroe Swiley Jr. was the officiant.

Earl Cranor Sr. gave his daughter in marriage and, after the ceremony, he and Mrs. Cranor entertained at a reception in the church social hall.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Cuyler Gunn as matron of honor, Misses Karin Smalley, Catherine Bray, Miriam Hudson, Jane Towns, Sue Baxter and Mrs. Bayne Culley Jr., the former Betsy Rushin, as bridesmaids.

R. W. Carmichael was his son's best man, and groomsmen were Earl Cranor Jr., James W. Manry, Francis Rigdon Currie, F. Pearce Williams, George Dunbar and Claude McGinnis Jr.

E. D. Schane, Dick Osgood, James Bonner and Martin Livingston ushered.

MRS. MARIE REEVES continues ill at her home in Druid Hills.

Vocational Educators Elect Segars

Glenn Segars, vocational agriculture teacher at Swainsboro, was elected president of the Georgia Vocational Association as the organization concluded its seventh annual convention at the Biltmore Hotel in Atlanta.

Segars succeeds Miss Annie Stenbridge.

Delegates from the 1,259 GVA membership elected Mark Davis of Covington as secretary and T. G. Walters of Atlanta as treasurer, and named six vice presidents.

The new vice presidents and their classification of vocational educational work:

Distributive Education, W. F. Burke, Lindale; Trades and Industrial Education, Robert Harvey, Waycross; Guidance, Ila Rooks, Athens; Vocational Rehabilitation, R. E. Williamson, Milledgeville; Homemaking Education, Montine Jackson, Moultrie; and Agricultural Education, Harry L. Davis, Colquitt.

George L. Martin, state director of vocational education in the State Department of Education, said federal vocational funds to Georgia will be increased by about $120,000 next year.

Suspense King Hitchcock's 'Dial M for Murder'

A Real Thriller

That master thriller-maker, Alfred Hitchcock, has done it again. "Dial M for Murder," which opened Friday on the Fox Theater's wide screen, is one of the slickest suspense yarns of this or any other movie year.

The Technicolor whodunit starring Ray Milland, Grace Kelly and Robert Cummings is an adaptation of the stage hit built around the efforts of a husband to murder his wife. Miss Kelly, only woman in the film, is an eye-for-a-twist of the eyebrow or cigar, steal the show.

"Dial M" was written for the screen by Britisher John Knott, who first penned his tale as a TV show, then rewrote it for the stage. The movie has the inimitable Hitchcock touches plus an exciting musical score composed and conducted by Dimitri Tiomkin.—Marjory Smith.

Reviewer's rating: Good drama. Adult classification.

LAY CORNERSTONE—The cornerstone of the new $2,603,000 State Agriculture Building was laid Friday afternoon with civil and Masonic ceremonies. Participating in the laying of the cornerstone, in which were placed a Bible and a penny, were (L-R) M. A. Chapman, of Dublin, Grand Master of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Georgia, and Dan W. Locklin, grand secretary of the lodge.

'Unique Method' of Paying Fee Offered by Thompson

Campaign headquarters for M. E. Thompson said Friday he will employ a "unique method" to pay his entrance fee when he qualifies as a candidate for governor here next Tuesday.

There was no hint, however, as to what manner the former acting governor will use to pay his fee.

When House Speaker Fred Hand qualified early this month, he paid his entrance fee with a bucket full of coins from Mitchell County supporters. And Lt. Gov. Marvin Griffin's fee was paid by a group of American Legionnaires and former Army buddies.

With Hand, Rep. Charles Gowen, Commissioner of Agriculture Tom Linder and Ben Garland also expected to be busy campaigning next week, Thompson and Griffin have heavy schedules.

Thompson will stage his 13th "radio party" over a three-station hook-up from Harkinsville Monday afternoon before coming to Atlanta to qualify and open an Atlanta campaign office as an adjunct to his Valdosta headquarters.

Griffin, who addressed the Solicitors General Association of Georgia in Savannah Friday, will be in Atlanta Monday and Tuesday before going to Washington, Ga., Tuesday and Wednesday. He will attend the 60th anniversary of the founding of Kingsland in that Georgia coastal town Thursday and speak to the County Officers Association in Atlanta Friday.

APPOINTED—Dr. M. Gordon Brown, former Georgia Tech faculty member who has been in government foreign service since 1950, was appointed assistant chancellor of the University System of Georgia by the Board of Regents Friday.

Resource Pool Okayed By Egypt, Saudi Arabia

By KENNETH LOVE

CAIRO, June 11—Egypt and Saudi Arabia have agreed to pool their resources in war industries, armaments, defense and military training.

Maj. Salah Salem, minister of national guidance, said today that the step had been taken in accordance with terms of the Arab Collective Security Pact. Maj. Salem returned yesterday from a four-day visit to Saudi Arabia, during which he met King Saud.

The minister, who spoke at a press conference, is regarded by many as the No. 2 man in Egypt's ruling Army Junta behind Premier Gamal Abdul Nasser. He said the agreement would "render both countries as one as far as defense and all military questions were concerned."

Some observers were inclined to view with extreme caution so sweeping a statement that was unaccompanied by specific details.

It will not be known just what the agreement, which Maj. Salem indicated had been oral, means until more is learned about the practical measures decided on to support unity between both countries.

Egypt has been active recently

in attempting to rally the Arabs against what is regarded as Western attempts to split them with offers of arms aid to individual countries. Iraq's acceptance of a United States arms offer and imminent practical defensive links between other Arab states, such as Lebanon and Syria, with the West have cost Egypt her one-time pre-eminence in the Arab world.

Some observers were inclined to view with extreme caution so sweeping a statement that was unaccompanied by specific details.

Egypt has been active recently

in attempting to rally the Arabs against what is regarded as Western attempts to split them with offers of arms aid to individual countries. Iraq's acceptance of a United States arms offer and imminent practical defensive links between other Arab states, such as Lebanon and Syria, with the West have cost Egypt her one-time pre-eminence in the Arab world.

Some observers were inclined to view with extreme caution so sweeping a statement that was unaccompanied by specific details.

It will not be known just what the agreement, which Maj. Salem indicated had been oral, means until more is learned about the practical measures decided on to support unity between both countries.
